WE MUST ARBITRATE

This is How the Chilian Affair Will Be Settled.

A SPECIAL MESSAGE EXPECTED.

President Harrison Will Communicate With Congress on This Subject as Soon as That Body Assembles—Minister Egan Has Nothing More to Do With the Baltimore Affair.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The entire available confidential force of the state department is still engaged in copying documents relating to the Chilian controversy, and it is regarded as reasonably certain that a special message from the president will go in to congress, if not on its reassembling on Tuesday next, then just as soon thereafter as both houses shall be in condition to give the matter their undivided attention.

It is not understood that the sending of a special message on Chilian affairs necessarily implies any addition to the warlike features of the situation. The president's annual message contained two promises. One was that if the "just anticipations of the United States in regard to some adequate and satisfactory response by Chili" to the note calling for apology and reparation should be disappointed, or "further needless delay intervene," the president would, by special message, bring this matter again to the attention of congress "for such action as may be necessary."

The other promise was an unconditional one, namely, "the entire correspondence with the government of Chili will, at an early day, be submitted to congress." It is understood that it is the latter promise that is now in course of fulfillment, but it is intimated that there may be some important suggestions, not absolutely of a warlike character, accompanying the papers.

There have been no further warlike developments in the Chilian situation today. None are likely to occur. According to the best obtainable information there are three important facts which divest the warlike rumors of the past few days of nearly all their significance. First, the basis of negotiations has been transferred absolutely from Santiago to Washington. Second, the Chilian government has indicated through Mr. Montt, its representative here, a willingness to submit the questions of fact in dispute to arbitration. Third, the president will lay before congress the whole correspondence, and may possibly accompany that transmittal with a recommendation that the matter be referred to the arbitration of the Mexican minister in Washington, Senor Romero.

Signor Don Pedro Montt, Chilian minister, is himself the authority for the statement that the negotiations have been transferred from the Chilian capital to the seat of government of the United States. Mr. Montt says that if the questions in controversy had been left to himself and Mr. Blaine a settlement would have been arrived at long before this. The chief difficulty, he says, in the way of an adjustment has arisen from the strained relations between the United States minister, Mr. Egan, and the Chilian government.

All matters are now taken out of that channel, and the correspondence is being conducted directly from here, chiefly by cable and without the intervention of our minister in Santiago. This removes one great source of friction, though at the same time leaving the American minister in an anomalous position from which it is thought he will shortly be relieved in some manner, either by a leave of absence or otherwise, just as soon as the perplexing matter of the Balmacedan refugees is adjusted.

The suggestion that arbitration is to be resorted to seems to rest upon good authority. The question involved is one of fact, not one of construction. If the facts are as contended for by the United States, Chili, it is said, will not dispute the conclusion that an insult was offered to the uniform of the United States for which an apology and reparation may be justly asked and may with equal justice and no loss of self-respect be accorded by Chili.

The history of the attempt by the late Pan-American conference to adopt some general plan of arbitration which should be binding upon "all the republics of North, Central and South America," places both the United States and Chili in a peculiar position on this question. The original propositions were that every question arising between the countries should be subject to arbitration, except "where, in the judgment of any nation involved in the controversy, its independence might be endangered by the result of arbitration."

The United States and six of the other nations participating in this conference, unhesitatingly adopted this formula. Mexico, through Minister Romero, made some reservations as to referring questions directly affecting the dignity of the nation to the judgment of a third party, and the representatives of Chili filed a written statement of their views, in which they took the same ground as Mexico, and added: "We, the delegates from Chili, do therefore declare that while we recognize as an absolute proposition the excellence of the principle of arbitration, we do not accept it as unconditional and obligatory. The government of the republic will in the future, as it has done in the past, resort to arbitration for the settlement of international conflicts or difficulties in which it may be involved, whenever in its judgment the controversy or question may admit of such settlement."

The Chilian government, it is now said, has, through its proper representative, admitted the Baltimore incident to be one of the difficulties which admit of such settlement. Among the terms of settlement by arbitration which received the unanimous consent in the Pan-American conference, Chili alone retraining from voting (though not dissenting) was one providing that the court of arbitration might consist of one or more persons. "If one person, the arbitrator shall be selected by the nations concerned." It is stated that Chili will propose the arbitration of Mr. Romero, the Mexican minister, and it is not thought likely that the United States will interpose any objection to his selection.

BLOODY STREET FIGHT.

One Man Killed and Three Others Severely Wounded.

MONTICELLO, Fla., Jan. 4.—News has just been received by messenger from Perry, Taylor county, fifty miles south of here, of a bloody street fight there last Thursday in which Bob Parker, twenty-five years old, was instantly killed and three others severely wounded, one of whom, ex-County Judge John J. Goento, died from his injuries early Sunday morning.

Thomas Walters, another of the wounded men, can live only a few hours, his wounds being three deep cuts across the abdomen, made by William Parker, brother of Bob. Walters was the first man wounded, but he held the two Parkers and Marion Murphy at bay for nearly ten minutes with his pistols, his assailants being armed with shot-guns and knives.

Judge Goento tried to stop the fight, but accidentally got in front of William Parker's gun and received the contents of two barrels in his stomach. The coroner's jury found that Walters killed Bob Parker in self-defense. William Parker and Marion Murphy, who fired at Walters, are now in jail, closely guarded, awaiting the result of Walter's wound.

RAISING THE BLOCKADE.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 4.—The grain blockade is being broken. A circular has been sent out from the general traffic department of the Rock Island road, giving orders to resume the loading of grain and flaxseed consigned to Chicago; also to eastern points by the way of Chicago, subject to Chicago weight and inspection.

It also orders the receiving of grain from other roads, if in cars of such roads, to be forwarded without change. The Rock Island has now plenty of cars here, as have the Santa Fe and some of the other roads. The cause for the blockade here for some days past has not been on account of the car famine, but of the blockade at Chicago. This order will afford immediate relief.

General Freight Agent Courtright, of the Alton, is in the city and predicts the early breaking up of the blockade. The Burlington's order forbidding the loading of cars for Kansas City will doubtless be rescinded now in a few days at the most.

DUEL WITH KNIVES.

Fight Between Two Mexicans Both in Love With the Same Girl.

CORONA, Mex., Jan. 4.—A terrible duel with knives has been fought here between Antonio Gomez, the son of the proprietor of the plaza where the bull fights are held, and another young man. The young men were in love with the same senorita. When they met in front of the cathedral one of them struck the other. In a moment two knives were out and flashing in the air.

One of the young men was disarmed and the other terribly hacked. The latter lingered a few days and died in dreadful agony; the other was killed on the spot. All the time the men were fighting service was going on in the cathedral, as it was the feast of Santa Marie de Guadalupe. The front of the cathedral was grandly illuminated with colored lanterns, while within were 1,000 people who were attending service. Fully 2,000 people were watching, no one daring to interfere.

BIG STRIKE IMPENDING.

Operatives of the Elgin Watch Works Ready to Quit Work.

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—Three thousand operatives of the Elgin National Watch company, of Elgin, Ill., stand ready to strike and only await the signal to quit work. Several hundred skilled workmen in two departments walked out Saturday, and unless all signs fail the strike will become general.

Two weeks ago there were rumors that a general cut-down was contemplated by the management. These rumors were verified on the payday following, when the employees found their wages decreased from 15 to 60 per cent. The claim is made that 2,800 employees of the watch company are organized and are about to strike a blow against the recent reduction.

Convicts Again at Work in the Mines.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 4.—The convict miners were put to work Saturday under a strong guard of state militia. It was anticipated that the free miners would make trouble, but so far they have done nothing further than to express their discontent by mutterings and threats. There are few conversant with the facts, however, who doubt that there will be serious trouble when the troops are withdrawn, or possibly before. Pickets will be placed around the convict camp to guard against a night attack, but the miners are in an ugly mood and may risk their chances of an encounter with the militia, having darkness to cover their retreat if unsuccessful.

American Money for Russians.

St. PETERSBURG, Jan. 4.—The Hon. Charles Emory Smith, United States minister to Russia, has handed to the Rev. Francis, pastor of the Anglo-American church in this city, a large sum of money subscribed by Americans for the relief of famine sufferers. Among these subscriptions thus turned over is one of $1,400 from a single Jewish synagogue in California.

TOOK TO THE BRUSH.

Garza's Band Seen by United States Troops.

AN ENGAGEMENT TAKES PLACE.

Revolutionists Routed and Escape Into the Forests—One of the Leaders Captured and Taken to Fort Ringgold. President Diaz Uneasy About the Present State of Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—General Schofield received a dispatch yesterday from General Stanley dated San Antonio, Tex., Jan. 3. The dispatch reads as follows:

"Dispatch received this morning from the commanding officer at Fort Ringgold dated yesterday. He reports that Lieutenant Langhorn with sheriff, deputy marshal and a detachment just in with one prisoner, Colonel Pablo Munaz, one of Garza's leaders. Lieutenant Langhorn reports, that yesterday they struck a camp of revolutionists three miles from Lascruces, five miles from Fort Ringgold, and the revolutionists ran, leaving everything as soon as they discovered the troops, and escaped into the dense thickets. Not knowing that any of them were hurt, though many shots were fired after them as they dashed into the brush. It was in this vicinity Pablo Munaz was captured; also horses and equipments of nine revolutionists, two guns, ammunition, badges and many important papers."

General Schofield expressed himself as being much gratified with the news of this dispatch.

ACROSS THE RIO GRANDE.

Mexican Troops Feel Confident They Can Cope With Garza's Men.

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 4.—It is very difficult to receive any information from Mexico concerning the situation in that country and the feeling among the people there. The military officers on the right bank of the Rio Grande, it is understood, feel confident that the Mexican troops massed on the frontier are fully competent, so far as numbers are concerned to cope with Garza and almost any sized force that he can organize and equip on Texas soil, when he moves across the river on his proposed invasion of Mexico.

The greatest apprehension that President Diaz feels concerning the movement is that Garza has confederates among the higher officers of the republic and that there is a secret organization among the discontented classes of the people in the City of Mexico and the other principal cities of Mexico. The report that Garza visited the City of Mexico during the month of November has been confirmed, and there is every reason to believe that he made the visit with a definite object in view. That object was to obtain financial support and employ a force of secret agents, who were instructed to enlist the sympathy of the people in his proposed forcible restoration of the constitution of 1857.

Tracing the Causes.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—A London dispatch to The World contains this: A personal letter received here from an official high in the esteem of the Diaz government in the City of Mexico throws new light on the existing trouble. The letter reads:

"You ask, does the Mexican government fear the Garza movement? It does. President Diaz is not popular with the masses. Diaz rules with an iron hand. He does not consult his ministry or his congress, but makes and repeals laws at his pleasure. In Mexico there is no politics. Diaz rules. The people are not satisfied with this state of affairs, and were they in a position to do so they would join Catarino Garza today. Diaz knows this and fears it. Every company, troop and battery in the Mexican army is ready to move at once. This Garza movement, in my opinion, is no small thing."

"Once he can get into Mexico there is no telling what may happen. What is worrying the Mexican government is where he is getting the money to prosecute his campaign. Garza has money behind him, but who furnishes it is what we all would like to know. I speak of Garza, but no one believes him to be in command, as Garza is essentially a civilian, a man of good address and popular, but he is not a soldier. When the time comes a well known man, who is loved by all Mexicans, will lead the revolutionists. I leave you to determine the man—it will be a difficult task."

"Another point, Diaz is not popular with the Catholic church. Under the government the church as a religion has freedom, but it can not own lands. Many people claim that the priesthood are in sympathy with the revolutionists. As to this I can not speak, but there is no question that Diaz is considered as an enemy of Catholicism, being the leader of the Liberal party."

FREEZING IN THE DARK.

A Break in a Natural Gas Main Causes Serious Results.

PRRU, Ind., Jan. 4.—Seventeen hundred fires were practically useless in this city Saturday night, which was one of the coldest this winter. A break in the natural gas mains, twelve miles from this city, occurred just as the cold wave struck the city, and it was some time before the source of the leak could be located.

Hundreds of people are dependent not only for fuel, but, in many instances, for light also on the natural gas supply, and the hardship they were forced to endure is something alarming. La grippe has been prevalent here, as it is, and with this mishap of no light or fire in so many residences, the result is greatly dreaded. There is any amount of criticism of the poor gas service.

VALUABLE COLLECTION

Of Curiosities Presented to Franklin College—Worth $6,000.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Jan. 4.—The collection of curios, valued at $6,000, which was presented to Franklin college a few days ago by an ex-state geologist, has been the subject of much comment and admiration by the antiquarians in this part of the state. The collection is a handsome one, and is second only to the one owned by Rev. J. M. Oldfather, of near Hanover, who returned recently, after a residence of eighteen years in Persia as a missionary under the auspices of the Presbyterian board. His home is a veritable museum of curiosities picked up by his family during their long sojourn in the land of Mohammedanism.

The family take pleasure in showing them to their friends who are antiquarian in their tastes. A number of Persian rugs and carpets are among the more attractive features of the collection, each one of which shows the beautiful blending of colors and artistic figuring, for which Persian weaving is so famous. The list also includes a Persian shawl, specimens of engraved brass work done by hand, also filigree handwork of that country; Persian lace and needlework, done with silk thread on linen foundation; specimens of china work done by the imported Chinese during the reign of the Shah Abbas, the figures being in bas-relief, and are magnificent samples of the lost arts. A magnificent dagger, having the finish so famous in the Damascus blade, is also included, and articles of clothing worn by the Kurdish, Musselman and Christian, together with a large assortment of books, manuscripts and coins.

COLLEGE BURNED.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Jan. 4.—The main building of Converse college, at Spartanburg, one of the largest and best equipped institutions in the south for the higher education of women, was burned Saturday night at midnight. The faculty and students all escaped, some with nothing but the clothing they had on. About half the students had not returned from the holiday vacation.

A brisk breeze was blowing from the north, which spread the fire through the main building very rapidly. The annex, built last summer, at a cost of about $30,000 was saved, although it was only twenty feet from the main building. The fire originated in the furnace room. The building was an elegant one, and was only completed about eighteen months ago. The loss will reach between $75,000 and $100,000; insurance, $40,000 or $50,000. The work of rebuilding will be commenced at once, meantime the exercises of the school will be continued in the annex.

CONGRESSIONAL FORECAST.

No Very Important Business to Be Transacted This Week.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—It is not likely that any important business will be transacted in the senate when it convenes on Tuesday next, and it has no regular program mapped out for the week. The order of business will be largely dependent upon the expedition shown by the various committees in making up their reports. None of the committees have yet held a meeting since their reorganization just before the holidays.

In the house it is probable that in the event of Speaker Crisp not being able to preside, Benton McMillin will be selected as speaker pro tem. The rules of the Fifty-fifth congress will then be adopted and will remain in force until the committee on rules is ready to report, which may be two weeks hence. Tuesday and Wednesday will very probably be devoted to the reception of bills, it is not likely that any other business of importance will be transacted during the week.

STRANGE REUNION.

Parents Surprised by a Son They Had Long Mourned for Dead.

BRAZIL, Ind., Jan. 4.—Twenty-eight years ago John Wade and wife lived in England. They had a young son to whom a childless man and wife, living neighbors, took a great fancy. They persuaded the Wades to allow them to have the child. The Wades moved to this country and settled in this city. The child's adopted parents wrote that the child had died.

The parents mourned for their son for all these years, when last night they were surprised to see a tall, fine-looking man walk into their home and proclaim himself their son. His adopted parents had become so attached to him that they could not give him up and wrote a false message of his death. He left England and came to America, and is now a prosperous farmer near Bloomington, Ill. He heard of his real parents by accidentally meeting a friend from this city who knew them and their history.

Tramps in a Wreck.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 4.—Freight No. 92, eastbound, on the Baltimore and Ohio Friday night at 9 o'clock, broke in two on a steep grade near Franklin, nine miles west of Bellaire, O. One section of the train dashed down the grade with lightning-like rapidity for a distance of six miles, and finally crashed into another train on a bridge. Five tramps were on the broken section. Strattermoon, aged thirty-eight, was bruised across the abdomen, will die; home Campbell county, Va. Martin Crony, both arms broken and hurt internally; probably die; home Wheeling, W. Va. The other three men were injured about the head and body; will probably recover.

Small Stampede.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 4.—A small fire in the Chittenden hotel last night, caused quite a stampede among the politicians assembled there. No one was hurt and the damage was but slight.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.
ROSSELL & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

MONDAY, JANUARY 4, 1892.

The Fleming Gazette fattened on its Christmas turkey and comes to us this week enlarged and greatly improved.

The announcement of Mr. Ben D. Parry as a candidate for Circuit Clerk appears in this issue. A truer Democrat can't be found in the county, or anywhere else, and his experience in the office has thoroughly acquainted him with its duties and responsibilities and qualified him for the position. His faithful and efficient attention to the office in the past is a guarantee that it will be in excellent hands as long as he holds it.

"Now you see it; now you don't." One day State Treasurer Hale has resigned; the next news is that he has changed his mind. He placed his resignation in the hands of the Governor last week, but the fact had hardly been published before he hunted the Governor up, presented his bond and stated that he would qualify. The bond was approved Saturday, and Mr. Hale will qualify to-day—provided he doesn't change his mind again. He may know what he's up to, but the people don't like to see such monkeying with one of the most important offices in the State.

The Mistreatment of Horses.

Doubtless it was the daily spectacle of the abuse of horses which stimulated Henry Bergh to the great service which has justly made his name renowned. But the guilt of the abuse is not confined to draymen and teamsters. The ignorance and indifference of wealth and fashion to the treatment of horses are quite as conspicuous, and for obvious reasons much more unpardonable.

The horse, which is one of the most sensitive and delicate of animals, is greatly to be commiserated as he appears in the fashionable drive of Central park. He is treated as a part of the show of the parade, and he is at the mercy of the owner, who buys horses not because he likes them or knows anything about them, but because he must have an equipage, and he abandons them to the care of grooms and coachmen, whose sole aim is to produce a more "swell" effect than their rivals. For a "stylish" effect the horse is robbed of his natural ornament and defense, and is checked and trussed and tortured by a harness which encumbers his natural action and forces him into an artificial "gaît."

Human knowledge and skill directed to an auxiliary animal like the horse should aim to develop his natural aptitudes. He should be treated as a human and skillful gardener treats a tree in our modern landscape gardening, not as a tree was maltreated by the false and morbid taste of two centuries ago.

Such remarks do not apply to the lovers of horses who care for them with sympathy and intelligence, who comprehend their practical helplessness and acknowledge their faithful service. Such lovers permit in their stables no "fashions" invented by ignorant and inhuman grooms to produce "stylish" action to impress similar ignorance and folly.—Harper's Weekly.

Ruined by Drink.

FORT WAYNE, Jan. 4.—A. D. Ross, formerly train dispatcher for the Pennsylvania company, was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary for stealing an overcoat. A few years ago he was prominent in railway circles, but lost position after position on account of drunkenness. He had many friends, who procured him position after position only to hear of his discharge in a short time. He was engaged to a young lady of position and wealth, but she was forced to break with him by reason of his habits, and this seemed to urge him all the faster in his dissolute life.

Express Messengers Strike.

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 4.—The messengers of the Southern Express company, running between New Orleans and Cairo, on the Illinois Central road and branches are out on a strike. They want higher wages and pay for overtime. This request was presented formally to Superintendent Fisher some time ago, and their demands were acceded to. But this was followed by the discharge Saturday of Messenger Cordell, the man who presented the petition asking for the increased pay. The discharge of Cordell caused the strike.

Michigan Mason Dead.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Jan. 4.—General Ebenezer Sprague, one of the most illustrious of Michigan Freemasons, died yesterday in the Masonic home here. He was eighty-seven years old. General Sprague had been grand high priest of the grand chapter of the Royal Arch Masons and illustrious grand master of the grand council of Royal and Select Masons.

Result of a Family Jar.

SHEBOYGAN, Wis., Jan. 4.—Shortly before midnight last night, Edwin Fairchild shot his stepdaughter, Arlisle Johnson, and then turned the revolver on himself and was instantly killed. The girl will probably live. The tragedy was the result of a family jar.

Three Non-Union Men Killed.

TEXARKANA, Ark., Jan. 4.—A car containing ten non-union telegraph line-men whom the Western Union Telegraph company was sending south to take the place of strikers, was broken into last night and three of the men were killed.

PLAIN TALK.

Governor Brown Wants a Law to Enforce the Payment of Taxes on Distilled Spirits.

The Building of the Branch "Pen" a Stupendous Mistake—More of That Message.

TAX ON DISTILLED SPIRITS.

All distilled spirits are, by law, subjected to a county as well as State tax. I directed the State Examiner and Inspector to make inquiries, and report to me in what counties the law on this subject had been complied with. By his report, it appears that there are only eight counties in Kentucky in which this tax has been collected, to-wit: Bourbon, Henderson, Union, Anderson, Woodford, Marion, Daviess, Madison, and, in part only, in Harrison.

The law on the subject is stringent. The distillers are required to report quarterly to the Clerk of the County Court all deliveries of distilled spirits for the preceding quarter, accompanied by a remittance and payment of the tax due the county upon such delivered spirits, which tax by said Clerk shall be turned into the county treasury, or paid out to such person or persons as the county levy court may by order direct. By an amendment of the law passed by the last General Assembly, it is provided that upon the failure of the payment of this tax by any distiller, suit may be instituted, either in the Circuit or Quarterly Court, in the name of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, for the benefit of the county to which the taxes are due. Penalties are denounced for the non-payment of this tax, which are likewise recoverable by suit in said courts, and these provisions apply to all taxes now due and payable upon distilled spirits to any county of the State. It is made the duty of the County Attorneys to institute and prosecute these suits.

As this tax has not been collected for the benefit of the counties, except those heretofore named, I respectfully recommend to your honorable body the enactment of a law providing for heavy penalties against such County Attorneys as may neglect the performances of their duties in this matter. The counties are entitled to these taxes, and their payment should be enforced.

LICENSES.

I regard the law prescribing the duties of County Clerks as to license fees collected by them as defective. I would respectfully recommend that they shall be required to report monthly to the Auditor the names of all persons to whom licenses have been granted—also dates when the same were due, when paid, and amounts received, same to be verified by the oath of the Clerk, said report to be accompanied by a remittance of the amount collected, and also to make full report of same in similar manner to each term of the Circuit Court in their respective counties—said reports to be, by the Judges of said courts, ordered recorded by the Clerks thereof. The County and Commonwealth's Attorneys should be required to certify under oath that they have examined the records of the County Clerk and found these reports correct.

PENITENTIARIES.

There are now in the Frankfort penitentiary 888 convicts. The sanitary condition of the prison and its discipline are excellent. There is not sufficient room in this prison for the number therein confined, as two have to sleep in each of 124 cells.

Recently, with the other members of the Sinking Fund Commissioners, I visited the penitentiary at Eddyville, and made a thorough inspection of it. There are now confined there 357 prisoners, and twenty-four, not included in this number, are being worked on the farm of the lessees.

The sanitary condition and discipline of this prison are also excellent. There is room for fifty-seven additional men, who will soon be sent there from Frankfort. The location of this prison is, in my judgement, most unfortunate. It is distant more than a mile from the railroad. It is built on a hill. The ascent to its front entrance is up many steps. Around the sides of the hill excavations have been made, and the offices, cell-houses and work-shops built in them. The kitchen and dining-room are on the apex of the hill. To avoid suffering and possible suffocation of convicts in the cells, fresh air has to be pumped into these apartments by machinery. The wall inclosing the grounds average 17½ feet in height—19 feet at the highest and 14½ feet at the lowest point. For 487 feet to the right of the front building, in which are the offices, there is no stone wall, but it is enclosed by a stockade of thick planks placed upright, 12 feet in height, and on the inside of which is a barbed wire fence. The hillside on the interior of the prison, to prevent the rains from washing great gullies in them, should be protected by putting thereon broken stone. Several very cheap and ugly frame buildings disfigure the grounds. Nearly twelve acres are inclosed. A road not yet used, above high-water mark, is in course of construction from this prison to the railroad station. For weeks, during high water in Cumberland river last winter, the place was only accessible in skiffs. There is no water supply. It costs the State five dollars per day to secure water for this prison, which is furnished by the lessees of the convict labor. A well has been bored, ten inches in diameter and 185 feet in depth, but no water has been found. The contractors have been authorized to extend the depth of this well twenty-five additional feet, unless water shall be sooner reached.

On April 28, 1887, the following act was passed by the General Assembly: "That for the purpose of procuring a site for said Branch Penitentiary, and paying the cost for building and erecting the same, the sum of $150,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated." Again, in 1886, April 7, another act was passed, which recites that "for the purpose of completing the Branch Penitentiary at Eddyville," $125,000 were appropriated.

Again, April 30, 1888, there was another act passed, which reads as follows: "The intent and purpose of this act are, that $150,000 or less shall complete such buildings and walls as may be necessary for the accommodation, management, employment and safe confinement of at least four hundred and eighteen convicts, as soon as possible," at this prison, and said amount was appropriated.

Four days thereafter, on the 4th of May, 1888, another law was passed, giving authority to the Governor to contract for the completion of the work, and for a lease of the prison for a term not greater than ten years, "on such terms as will, at least, relieve the State of all further expense in completing the prison and equipping it with the necessary machinery for the steady and constant employment of at least four hundred convicts, and also of all expenses connected with the management of the prison during the term of their contract."

If, however, it be found that a contract cannot be effected by which the State can be saved of all further cost, then the Governor shall make, by partial work upon the buildings and temporary structures, the best arrangement in his power whereby the confinement of four hundred prisoners and their steady employment therein can be secured. It being the wish of the General Assembly to secure this end at the earliest possible moment, and that this end may be accomplished, the Governor is hereby authorized to use, in addition to the appropriation already made, a sum not greater than $50,000, provided it is found that such a sum can be spared from the revenue of 1889 without increasing the general expenditure fund for that year; and provided that no portion of this sum shall be used except as it may appear that the desired end can not otherwise be accomplished, and that by the use of this sum, or some part of it, the prisoners now employed outside of the prison can be remanded to the walls under circumstances consistent with their being safely and comfortably housed and actively employed."

The contracts were made for the completion of the prison, and labor leased for a period of ten years. * * * The total appropriations therefor amount to $184,143.98, and of this sum $170,753.41 have been paid. Since this prison was received, the State has paid for improvements thereof, salaries, etc., $30,025.83, making altogether the sum of $500,779.24.

The prison is yet incomplete and unsafe, and, in my opinion, it will require the use of many thousands of dollars to have it properly finished. When the fifty-seven convicts are transferred to it, each prison will then be full. The number will certainly rapidly increase.

I regard the building of the branch penitentiary as a stupendous mistake. I think that it would have saved several hundred thousands of dollars to the Commonwealth if, instead, the prison at Frankfort had been enlarged sufficiently to accommodate two thousand convicts and provide necessary work-shops for their employment.

The General Assembly is required by Section 232 of the Constitution, "as soon as practicable," to establish a "House of Reform" for the "detention, correction, instruction, and reformation of all persons under the age of eighteen years, convicted of such felonies and such misdemeanors as may be designated by law." Now, if the enlargement of the penitentiary at the Capital should be regarded as practicable and wise, it might be that the branch penitentiary, with the consent of the lessees, could be utilized as a House of Reform. Your honorable body will at once appreciate the supreme necessity of making some early arrangement to avoid the difficulties and embarrassments that will, in the early future, confront the State on this question.

Wonderful Realism.

Every atom of scenery used in the production of "She Couldn't Marry Three," is specially built for the play. There are over three tons of it; it is worth going miles to see. One of the most notable scenes in the play is the picture of the Cornish coast, with practical revolving light-house and moonlight on the ocean; also, the view of Carboy's Abbey with crumbling walls and clinging ivy, a scene so beautiful as to baffle description. In the last act of the play is shown an exact representation of Dingley Tunnel, one of the most stupendous and natural railroad scenes ever produced. Every one of these novel effects are guaranteed by Manager Hassenforder, and will be seen here in the production of "She Couldn't Marry Three."

Mr. CLARENCE L. STANTON, late Inspector of Agencies for the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, has gone back to his first love and accepted a similar position with the Washington Life, of New York, in the Department of Ohio and Kentucky.

For the Children.

Our readers will notice the advertisements in these columns of Chamberlain & Co., Des Moines, Iowa. From personal experience we can say that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has broken up bad colds for our children and we are acquainted with many mothers in Centerville who would not be without it in the house for a good many times its cost and are recommending it every day.—Centerville (S. MR. GEORGE HUMPH, of Poplar Flat, Lewis County, died a few days since. He was well along in years and was one of Lewis County's best citizens; says the Vanceburg Sun. Deceased was one of the WEEKLY BULLETIN's oldest subscribers.

LIFE'S LABORS ENDED.

Two More of Mason County's Old and Esteemed Citizens Garnered in Death's Harvest.

Brief mention was made Saturday of the death of the venerable Richard Wells. He passed away at noon that day, at his home near Helena, after an illness of a few days from the grippe. The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, after which the remains were interred at that place.

Deceased was nearly ninety years of age, and was one of the oldest citizens of the county. He was born near Lewisburg, and his long life was spent in the county of his nativity. His wife, who was Miss Fannie Yancey, died some fifteen or twenty years ago. He was the father of five children, all sons. Of these three survive him—Mr. Thomas Wells, cashier of the First National Bank, and Messrs. Richard Wells, Jr., and Wm. Y. Wells, of Helena. A good and industrious citizen, a kind neighbor, a faithful friend, deceased enjoyed the esteem of all who knew him.

JAMES GAULT.

The serious illness of James Gault, of the Washington neighborhood, was mentioned last week. At that time his condition was rather critical and his recovery doubtful. He lingered until early Sunday morning, when his sufferings were ended in the sleep of death. He had been in the enjoyment of robust health for years, but was taken down with an attack of grippe early last week. His illness was aggravated by injuries he received to his back in a steamboat disaster in 1868, when the Maysville and Cincinnati packet Magnolia exploded her boilers near California. The burial took place to-day at Washington. The funeral services were held at 11 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Gault was in the eighty-fourth year of his age, and was a prominent and successful farmer. The county loses one of her best citizens in his death. His wife died some years ago. Six children survive him—Charles, Will and James Gault; Mrs. Anna Barnes, Mrs. Thomas Best and Mrs. Bessie Caldwell. The latter resides in Missouri.

Andrew Brittain, a blacksmith, died yesterday about noon at his home on Lawrence Creek. He was about seventy years of age.

James Byron, aged about twelve years, died yesterday at his home in Charleston Bottom. He received injuries to his spine about two years ago and had been a great sufferer, the accident finally resulting in his death.

ADAM W. GEIS, of Brooksville, Ind., and Miss Mamie Kelley, of Cincinnati, were married at the home of the bride last Thursday. Mr. Geis formerly lived in Maysville.

THE manager of the Western Union's office at Portsmouth says: "I never noticed so many messages concerning deaths and sickness passing over the wires before in all my career as a telegraph operator as I have during the past month."

VANCEBURG'S annual election, held Saturday, passed off quietly. The principal contest was for Mayor, E. B. Webster defeating Joseph Sparks. Political lines were not drawn. The Mayor and four Councilmen are Republicans, and the City Attorney, City Marshal, City Assessor and five Councilmen are Democrats.

CHARLES SHERWOOD, colored, of Mayslick, is in custody at Newport on charge of trying to kill his wife. They hadn't lived together for a year, and last week when he went down and hunted her up he found her with another man. A quarrel followed, and she was cut three times, once over the eye, a gash in the cheek and on the throat.

THE Christian Church Sunday school has elected Walter Cady Superintendent, Garrett Thompson Assistant Superintendent, F. B. Ransom; Secretary and M. F. Marsh Treasurer for this year. The total receipts of the school last year amounted to about $225, of this nearly $100 was contributed for missions and State Sunday school work.

"ONE OF THE FINEST," since its first production ten years ago in Boston, has never had a losing season, and has made the fortunes of three different owners of the play. Manager E. J. Hassan, its present owner, is now recognized and looked upon as one of the lucky "bond holders" in the profession. See this play Thursday night at the opera house.

THE Father Mathews Total Abstinence Society has elected the following officers for the ensuing six months:

President—C. Daly.
Vice President—E. Kelly.
Recording and Corresponding Secretary—T. Green.
Financial Secretary—D. Fitzgerald.
Treasurer—John Kane.
Sergeant-at-Arms—John Gill.
Color Sergeant—Jas. Redmond, Sr.
Sentinel—M. Brown.
Grand Marshal—J. Day.
Supervisors—W. A. Cole, D. L. Desmond and P. Green.

THE CITY ELECTION.

It Is Passing Off Quietly—How the Vote Stood a Late Hour This Morning.

The annual city election to-day is passing off quietly. But little interest seems to be manifested. There are contests for only a few of the offices. Sixth warders elect two Councilmen, but do not vote for other officers. Returns received between 10 and 11 o'clock show the following:

FIRST WARD.
Mayor: Pearce.....15
Chamberlain.....1
Marshal: Heflin.....16
Dawson.....0
Assessor: Huff.....13

Wood and Coal Inspector: Davis.....22
Durrell.....6
Councilman: Salisbury.....20
Watkins.....4

The only votes against O'Hare for Clerk were thirteen in the Fifth ward for C. P. Austin. Mr. Austin is not a candidate.

Cochran for Collector and Treasurer, and Plister for Wharfinaster have no opposition. The vote in the sixth ward was not obtained.

A Great Success.

There are many remarkable successes on the road this season, but none exceed the popularity enjoyed by the latest New York success, "She Couldn't Marry Three." Press and public accord it an ovation wherever presented. The scenic effects are superb, the story an intense and interesting one, unlike the many unreasonable and unnatural plays with which the public are surfeited. It is full of hearty laughter, bright and catchy music, the most sensational climaxes.

The company is one of the strongest on the road, the scenery the most magnificent ever built, and as the curtain rises on each act, prolonged applause attest the public appreciation of each beautiful stage picture. The great scenic artists, Messrs. Daniel Crummins and Herbert Speck, feel justly proud of their work on this production.

ANOTHER REBELLION

This Last One Going on in Morocco.

SULTAN'S BROTHER THE CAUSE.

His Scheming to Secure the Throne Has Greatly Imperilled British Interests. Emin Pasha Has Made Some Startling Discoveries in Africa—Other Foreign News.

GIBRALTAR, Jan. 4.—News received here from Tangier, the diplomatic capital of Morocco, reports a serious state of affairs in the vicinity of that city. No explanation is given of the trouble, but it is said that the tribes in the neighborhood of Tangier are in open rebellion against Mulai Hassan, the Sultan of Morocco. Matters in Morocco have been in a turbulent condition for some time past.

In November last news reached Tangier from Fez, the principal city of the country and the real capital, that all the ministers and court had been dismissed in disgrace. Among the fallen was Mulai Ismail, the Sultan's favorite brother. He for several years, held the khalifaship of his brother, that is to say, he formed a sort of supreme court of appeal to whom all cases already decided by the local governors could be referred.

Excepting the Sultan and the various heads of the sheikdom families, the khalifa was the only man from whom the nobility of Morocco thought they could accept judgment without derogation. No reason was known for his disgrace, but it was thought it was the result of a court intrigue. He had many friends among the upper classes and among the tribesmen, and it may be that his dismissal is the cause of the present trouble.

It was said by some of the natives, at the time of his exile from Fez, that Mulai Ismail was the instigator of a plot to depose his brother and to take the throne himself. This affords a basis for a conjecture that the rebellion now in progress in the vicinity of Tangier may perhaps be an attempt to carry out the plans of the alleged conspirators. However the case may be, the fact remains that the British authorities are taking prompt and energetic steps to protect British interests in Morocco.

One of the important points in that country in possession of the British is Cape Juby. It was reported some time since that the British had determined to abandon this place, but it was later stated that they had no intention of doing so. On the contrary, it was declared that they were actively engaged in fortifying the station, and were about to establish a governor's residence, with the object of improving trade relations with the desert tribes.

It was added, moreover, that when the French occupied the Touat oasis, the possession of which is disputed by the Sultan, the trade of Insalun would be transferred to Cape Juby. A British gunboat has already started from Gibraltar to protect the British residents at that place, and the battleship Thunderer is preparing to follow the gunboat. The Thunderer is a twin screw, iron-turret ship, armor-plated, of 9,300 tons and 7,000 horse power. She mounts four guns.

EMIN'S DISCOVERY.

Ultimate Source of the Mysterious Nile Found to Be the River Kifu.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—The news that Emin Pasha, in his wanderings from Lake Victoria to Lake Albert, has discovered the ultimate source of the Nile, is no doubt of great interest. But before giving way to unreserved jubilation, the Royal Geographical Society and African experts will wait for a detailed account of what he has actually done.

Emin Pasha certainly has not been as far as four degrees south latitude, where the Kifu, the river in question, is said to rise, so that its southern course is still conjectural. But that he has traced the Kifu to the southern shore of Lake Albert Edward may be accounted as all but certain.

This upsets much of the hydrography of the region between Lakes Victoria, Albert Edward and Tanganyika. It sweeps a conjectural Lake Kifu, and, probably, Stanley's Alexandria Nyanza, off the map. It greatly diminishes the length of the Kazinga, which flows into Lake Victoria, and probably does the same with the Rusizi, which flows into the north end of Lake Tanganyika.

There are, it should be added, several streams which flow to the southern shore of Victoria Nyanza, one of which may come from a more southerly latitude than the Kifu. Indeed, Stanley in 1870, thought he had discovered the most remote source of the Nile in the Shimerje, which, as he conjectured, came from at least five degrees south of the equator. But so far this conjecture has not been confirmed. Whatever else Emin may do on this curious pilgrimage of his, he is likely to be able to throw further important light on the source of the mysterious Nile.

Steamers in Collision.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—The steamer Noordland, of the Red Star line, which left Antwerp yesterday for New York, collided with the ship Schillwall which was arriving from Chili, loaded with saltpeter. The collision took place off the Belgian coast. The Schillwall was crushed by the collision and sank soon after, the crew, however, being saved. The Noordland was also badly damaged, but managed to run into Flushing with six feet of water in her hold. The necessary repair will cause some delay.

Slain by a Woman in Self-Defense.

WOODBURY, Tex., Jan. 4.—While intoxicated Friday Robert Milligan was shot and killed by Mrs. John Pendleton. Milligan called at the woman's house and was refused admission. He then broke down the door and attempted to strike Mrs. Pendleton with a fence rail, when the latter seized a shotgun and fired. The entire charge entered Milligan's forehead and he died instantly. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict that the shooting was done in self-defense.

OHIO HOUSE OFFICERS.

A Republican Caucus Decides the Speakership Question.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 4.—At a caucus held Saturday by the Republican representatives of the house the following officers were nominated:

Speaker—Lewis C. Laylin, of Huron county.

Speaker pro tem.—Elverton G. Clapp, of Lake-Geauga.

Chief clerk—John R. Malloy, of Franklin county.

Journal clerk—George H. Kolker, of Hamilton county.

Message clerk—N. P. Foster, of Pike county.

Engrossing clerk—Benjamin F. Allen, of Hancock county.

Enrolling clerk—Clyde D. Williams, of Paulding county.

Recording clerk—Miss Emma C. Whitney, of Cuyahoga county.

Sergeant-at-arms—Andrew Jackson, of Greene county.

First assistant—W. F. Brashears, of Muskingum county.

Second assistant—George P. Sanford, of Meigs county.

Third assistant—Private Fred Blankner.

Laylin was nominated for speaker on the first ballot, receiving 88 votes to 94 for Mr. McGrew. This is considered a Sherman victory, but the Forakerites have not given up the senatorial fight and still claim that they will have a majority when the senatorial caucus is held.

LITERALLY BLOWN TO ATOMS.

Nothing but Part of a Backbone Left to Tell the Fate of Two Men.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 4.—The oil town of McDonald, eighteen miles from this city, was shaken Saturday afternoon by the explosion of a magazine of nitro-glycerine located on the Glen farm just outside of town. The explosion occurred at 3 o'clock. John Fair and George Condy were literally blown to atoms. The only piece found was a part of the backbone of one of the victims.

Fair was a farmer living with his wife and daughter on a farm near town. Condy was single; his home was at Bradford, Pa. Thomas Irwin, who was working 300 feet distant from the magazine, was badly cut about the head and shoulder, but will recover. The cause of the explosion is not known. Condy was a new man at the business, and it is supposed that he dropped a can of the explosive. Nearly every light of glass within two miles of the scene was broken.

WAS NOT A COWARD.

A Little Boy's Bravery Costs Him His Life.

CELINA, O., Jan. 4.—The news of the horrible death, near Yorktown, north of this city, has been received of Harry Jacobs, aged ten. He and a group of boys, ranging from ten to fifteen, were shooting some firecrackers. Among the fireworks they had one of the large cannon crackers. They were bantering each other as to who would hold this one and let it explode.

All of them began to impose upon Harry, and he said he would show them that he was not as big a coward as the rest of them, and he took the cracker, applied a match to the fuse and held it out in his left hand. When the explosion occurred the shock was so great that it knocked him down, his head striking on a cornerstone, causing his death instantly. His last words were that he was not a coward.

DEATH OF GENERAL MEIGS.

Another Retired Army Officer Called to His Last Home.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—General M. C. Meigs, U. S. A., retired, died at his residence on Vermont avenue, in this city, last Saturday morning of pneumonia. General Meigs caught a severe cold last Sunday evening, and although no serious results were entertained, physicians were called in. He improved rapidly until Thursday morning when pneumonia followed a relapse, which proved fatal.

General Meigs leaves two daughters and one son, all married. His wife died many years ago. No arrangements have been made for the funeral, which will be in charge of the war department. The interment will be at Arlington.

Wants Grant's Remains Moved.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Senator Manderson will make an effort during the week in the senate committee on military affairs to call up Senator Plumb's resolution for the removal of General Grant's remains from New York to Arlington cemetery. Mr. Manderson believes that Arlington is the proper place for the great soldier to rest, and that there will be but little opposition to the projected removal.

Rioting in Guatemala.

CITY OF MEXICO, Jan. 4.—Special dispatches received here from Guatemala announce that considerable rioting is taking place in the streets of Quetzaltenango and Guatemala, two of the most important places in the republic, and that the probabilities favor the election of Senor Lainfiesta to the presidency. The dispatches say, however, that the police claim to be able to keep order.

Died of Hydrophobia.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 4.—Edward Ball, four years old, died of hydrophobia yesterday at his home in this city. The little fellow was badly bitten by a mastiff owned by Campbell Clark, a prominent citizen of this city, on Dec. 21. A younger brother of Ball was also bitten at the time, and the worst is feared in his case.

Hung at Chattanooga.

CHATTANOOGA, Jan. 4.—Jesse Frierson, colored, was hung in the county jail Saturday morning for the murder of D. C. Musgrove in the summer of 1890. Musgrove was an officer and attempted to arrest Frierson and Oscar Burrow, another negro, when Frierson drew a revolver and shot Musgrove dead. The execution was private.
